The Cas Revenuent for regulating the new or gas wands in unstrument for regulating the new or gas that I have even seen. It is correct in principle, and will accomplish admirably the abjects for which it was designed. It will insure great steadiness in the lights and as the preservant at the meter is, by this instrument, reduced considerably below that on the street mains, it will enable the consumer to gain an equal amount of light at a smaller expenditure for gas; for the less the pressure under which the gas is consumed, the greater is the amount of light obtained.
